City or Countryside?

By Adam Baker

It is not easy to decide where to live between the countryside or a big city. However, when comparing and contrasting my own experience between living in the countryside and in a big city, I would prefer to live in a big city, and here are my reasons.

No one can deny the fresh air and more peaceful atmosphere in the countryside, but I think living in a big city is more modern and convenient than living in the countryside. There is a lot of public transportation such as buses, subways, and trains which are always available to support people. I can easily go to places such as shopping centers, museums, libraries, and stunning historic spots.

The second reason why I like living in a big city is the high education. There are a lot of famous universities and colleges located there. Big cities support students with good technology to help them and teachers easily succeed in academics.

The last reason is about health care. Some big modern hospitals in a big city can provide better quality of health care. They have more modern medical equipment to make sure that they can help you whenever you are in a bad health condition. This is a very important point for why I prefer living in the city.
