About Me

I don't have so many friends because I don't like hanging around with people. I'm quite a shy person. My daily routine is spending hours each day on the web and playing computer games. I love technology and I love spending time on the computer. But just because I love technology doesn't mean I'm a loner. I do have a few close friends. I always help them whenever they need my help. I like helping other people too. It makes me feel good when I have a chance to help people who are in trouble .

About Me

I love numbers, so my favorite subject is mathematics. Solving Math problem is the only thing I can do best. I have a few close friends, and we spend hours talking and laughing. I like to do new things. I feel excited whenever I have a chance to do new activities. For example, I used to go bungee jumping and parachuting.
