Studying online makes my life very busy because my family has only one mobile phone. From 9am until midday, I use it to learn online with friends when my mother works from home. We don't have a laptop because we don't need it for our small mushroom farm in a rural area. The teacher uses LIVE in the Facebook group where I can't see the images, videos or texts very clearly. I can hear only the teacher's voice. When I want to take notes, I need to use some paper for review. In the afternoon, I must help my family in the farm, and my father needs to use the phone to contact with the customers. That's why I cannot join the class very often.

When I get back home, the first thing I need to do is checking the Facebook group. The teacher typically posts a worksheet there. I think it is very good for me because I can finish it anywhere anytime. Also, I can just send it to the teacher under the post and she will mark later. I often react to my classmates' work and give some comments. The teacher sometimes uses the chat box to correct the mistakes or asks for some more details because she said she wants to make online class more friendly and safe for everyone.
