Emma's Story:

Cyberbullied by a Best Friend

I had a best friend and we got into this really big fight and then she was saying really mean things to me on Facebook and over text messages and on the phone.

The main thing that I remember that she said was that I was a horrible person and that she didn't understand why anyone else would ever want to be my friend.

That really hurt me and cut me really deep and I will never forget that. I think dealing with the cyberbullying situation is really hard to just deal with it by yourself.

Talk to your parents and your close friends and try and get them to help you because the longer that you don't stand up for yourself the longer the cyberbullying will go on.
