City or Countryside?

By Adam Baker

It is not easy to decide where to live between a countryside or a big city. However, when comparing and contrasting my own experience between living in a countryside and in a big city, I would prefer to live in a big city, and here are my reasons.

No one can deny the fresh air and more peaceful atmosphere in the countryside, but I think living in a big city is more modern and convenient than living in the countryside. There are many types of public transportation such as buses, railroads, and trains which are always available to support people. I can easily go to places such as a shopping center, museums, a library, and stunning historic spots.

The second reason why I like living in a big city is the high education. There are a lot of famous universities and colleges located there. The big city supports the high technology that helps students and teachers easily have a successful academic.

The last reason is about healthcare. Some big modern hospitals in a big city can provide better qualities in health care. They have more modern medical machines to make sure that they can rescue you whenever you are in bad health conditions. This is a very important point for me to prefer living in the city.
