Instructions: Read the conversation between Mike and his mum then answer the below questions.

Mike is offering to help his mom with some grocery shopping.

Mike: Mum, I'm going into town to meet some friends. Do you need anything from the supermarket?

Mum: Oh, yes please, Mike. I need some cake for a party tonight.

Mike: OK. How much cake do you want?

Mum: Well, there isn't any cake in the freezer so I'll need about ten pieces of cake.

Mike: Do you want any jam or chocolates? I know you love it.

Mum: A jar of jam and a box of chocolates, please. Oh, and can you get five packets of tomato chips too? We only have a few left.

Mike: Got it. Anything else? Is there any bread or milk in the fridge?

Mum: There is a loaf of bread and there are two cartons of milk in the fridge.

Mike: Alright. See you later.

Mum: Thank you, Mike. See you later.
