COORDINATING CONJUNCTION - FANBOYS

A coordinating conjunction is a word that joins two elements of equal grammatical rank and syntactic importance. They can join two verbs, two nouns, two adjectives, two phrases, or two independent clauses. The seven coordinating conjunctions are for, and, nor, but, or, yet, and so.

Coordinating Conjunctions	Purpose	Example Sentence
for	To show reason	She bought mango, for she is hungry.
and	To add information	Hanna lives in Boston, and she's sheriff here.
nor	To add negative information	Bob doesn't enjoy eating vegetable, nor does he enjoy eating fruit.
but	To show contrast	The class was difficult, but everyone ended up receiving an A.
or	To give a choice	You can purchase with cash, or you can use the credit card here.
yet	To show concession or to contrast	The test was difficult, yet everyone received higher than a C grade.
so	To show result	My parents moved to Paris, so I had to find a new school.
