Trick the Soil: A Royal Theory

An aerial photograph of a tropical agricultural landscape. In the center is a large, irregularly shaped pond with a white bird, possibly a heron, standing in it. Surrounding the pond are several rectangular plots of land, some of which are covered in bright green crops, likely rice. The area is densely populated with palm trees. In the lower-left corner, there are two small, simple houses with thatched roofs. A dirt path or road runs through the middle of the landscape. The overall scene depicts a traditional agricultural setting in a tropical environment.

Our Great King

Chen: Look at these pictures. Who is he?

Keng: He is King Bhumibol Adulyadej (King Rama IX of Chakri Dynasty), the former king of Thailand. He is the soul of our nation.

Chen: Why is he the soul of your nation?

Keng: Well, I need you to look at what he held in his hands first.

Chen: A pencil and a map of Thailand? What were they for?

Keng: Our King brought them everywhere and anytime when he was on his royal duties.

Chen: Where did he go, what did he do and when did he visit his people?

Keng: Oh! So many questions to answer! He visited almost every area in Thailand to meet his people. And he visited his people almost every day in the past. He studied the map to see how he could help Thai people. He used his pencil to write down some new, interesting and useful information. You know, our King worked very hard because he wished Thai people to have good and happy lives. Why do we love him? Because he loves us all very much.

Chen: Wow! Thai people are so lucky to have such an amazing King.

Keng: I couldn't agree more!
