Direction: Read the following passage.

Halloween is usually celebrated amongst family, friends and sometimes, co-workers. However, some areas hold large community events. Parties and other events may be planned on October 31 or in the weekends before and after this date. Adults may celebrate by watching horror films, hold in costume parties or created hunted house or grave yards. Many children dress up in fancy costumes and visit other homes in the neighborhood. At each house, they demand sweets, snacks or a small gift. This is known as playing “trick or treat”. Some families carved lanterns with ‘scary’ faces out of pumpkins or other vegetables or decorate their homes and gardens in Halloween style. These were traditionally intended to ward off evil spirits. If you are at home on Halloween, it is good idea to have a bowl of small presents or sweets to offer to anyone who knocks on your door. So Halloween is the day adults and children enjoy themselves very much because they have a lot of interesting activities to do so.

Directions: From the passage, Valentine's Day, you are read. Complete the information below.

Valentine's Day is celebrated on February 14th because it was upon this day that Saint Valentine was supposed to have been executed for performing marriages. The story goes back the 2nd Century A.D. when Christians were persecuted by the Roman government. Christian marriages and other ceremonies were absolutely forbidden. The legend has it that Claudius II was trying to raise an army in Rome. It was his belief that married men would not make good soldiers because they would always be worried about their wives and children back home. To raise men for the army he forbade young men to marry. The punishment for any priest who would perform a marriage ceremony would be death! Because he so fervently believed in love and the idea that marriage was a holy state, St. Valentine performed marriage ceremonies, placing his allegiance to God before the Government in Rome. The good saint was caught performing a marriage and was hauled into prison and after a trial before the emperor, beheaded.

Phi Ta Khon (Thai: ผีตาโขน; phǎi taa khǎn; [p^hǎiː taː k^hǎn]), sometimes known as Ghost Festival, is the most common name for a group of festivals held in Dan Sai, Loei province, Isan, Thailand. The events take place over three days sometime between March and July, the dates being selected annually by the town's mediums.

The whole event is called Bun Luang, part of a Buddhist merit-making holiday also known as Bun Phawat

The first day is the Ghost Festival itself, also called Wan Ruam (assembly day). The town's residents invite protection from Phra U-pakut, the spirit of the Mun river. They then hold a series of games and take part in a procession wearing masks made of ricehusks or coconut leaves with hats made from rice steamers, plus patchwork clothing.^[1] They also wear bells and wave wooden phalluses.

The origins of this part of the festival are traditionally ascribed to a story of the Vessantara Jataka in which the Buddha in one of his past lives as a prince made a long journey and was presumed dead. The celebrations on his return were so raucous as to wake the dead. ^[2]

The second day of the festival incorporates elements of the Rocket Festival, plus costume and dance contests and more parades.

On the third and final day, the villagers listen to sermons from Buddhist monks
